January 29, 2025

TO: All Personnel

FROM: Captain Green

SUBJECT: Hazardous Material Technician School

Unified Fire Authority will be hosting a Hazardous Materials Technician School starting April 28 through May 29, 2025.

According to the Professional Development Plan, personnel who possess Hazardous Materials Technician training may receive preference in getting assigned to the UFA HazMat Specialty Program. UFA will make seats available to Firefighters, promoted Specialists (Engineer and Paramedic), and Officers who may want to attend this school and gain the experience/certifications to potentially join the HazMat Program when an opening comes available.

Full attendance is required to complete the school and be eligible to become certified. Each candidate will be responsible for attending school on their days off with no monetary reimbursement. However, if the candidate is on-duty, time to attend school will be covered by the Department. Candidates will not be responsible to get trades or cover their shift while on duty.

The Hazardous Materials Technician School will not be tied to the promotional process. The promotional process will be separate from the school and will be administered once the current list expires.

If you are interested in being considered for the Hazardous Materials Technician School starting April 28, 2025, please submit a resume detailing any pertinent qualifications as well as a cover letter explaining your interest no later than February 15, 2025. Both the resume and cover letter must be uploaded through Applicant Pro using the link below.
